what we understand

Three guesses about T&S Global. Tell us which are wrong.

INDUSTRY A manufacturing business

TODAY Running on QuickBooks

NEED Needing BIR EIS and CAS compliance

Our guesses

True, or not us?

1	BIR forms are rebuilt by hand each month	True	Not us
2	Spreadsheets fill the gaps between QuickBooks and the BIR rules	True	Not us
3	The Permit to Issue and EIS steps have no owner yet	True	Not us

the rules in plain words

From 31 December 2026, covered taxpayers e-invoice.

31 DECEMBER 2026

66

days to go

31 Dec 2026. From this date, covered taxpayers issue compliant e-invoices. An issued e-invoice can't be deleted or changed.

Who it covers

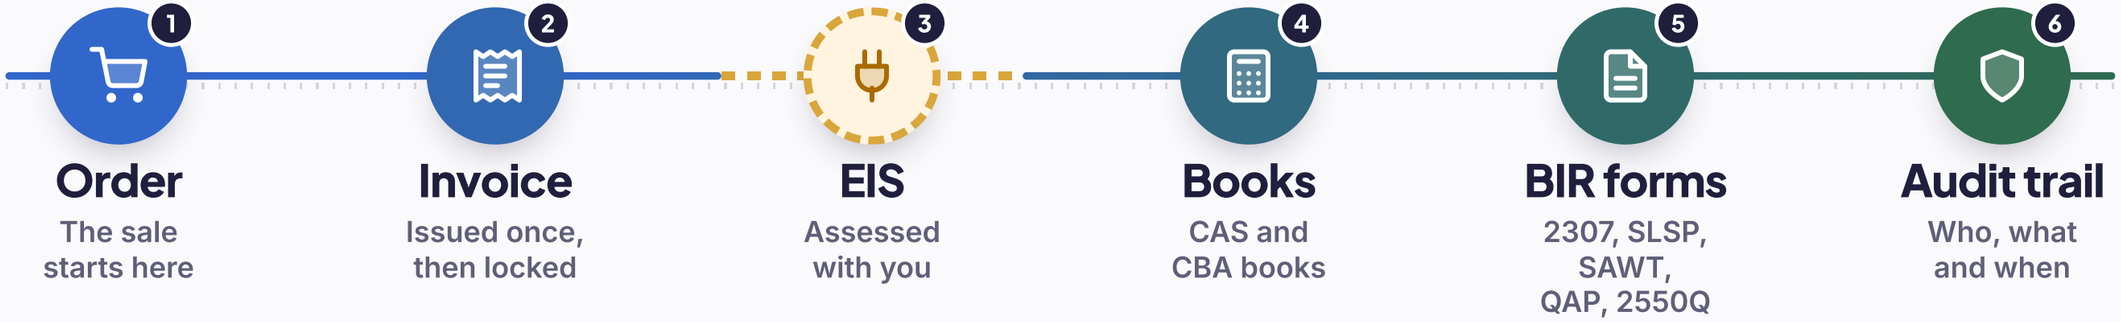

- E-commerce or internet sellers
- Large Taxpayers Service
- Large taxpayers (RA 11976, RR 8-2024)
- CAS or CBA users with invoicing software
- Micro taxpayers: exempt

Your accountant or RDO confirms which group you are in. Head office and branches are covered.

RR 26-2025 · RMC 98-2026 · general guidance, not tax advice: confirm with your accountant or the BIR

your pipeline

Your compliance flow, in one Odoo.

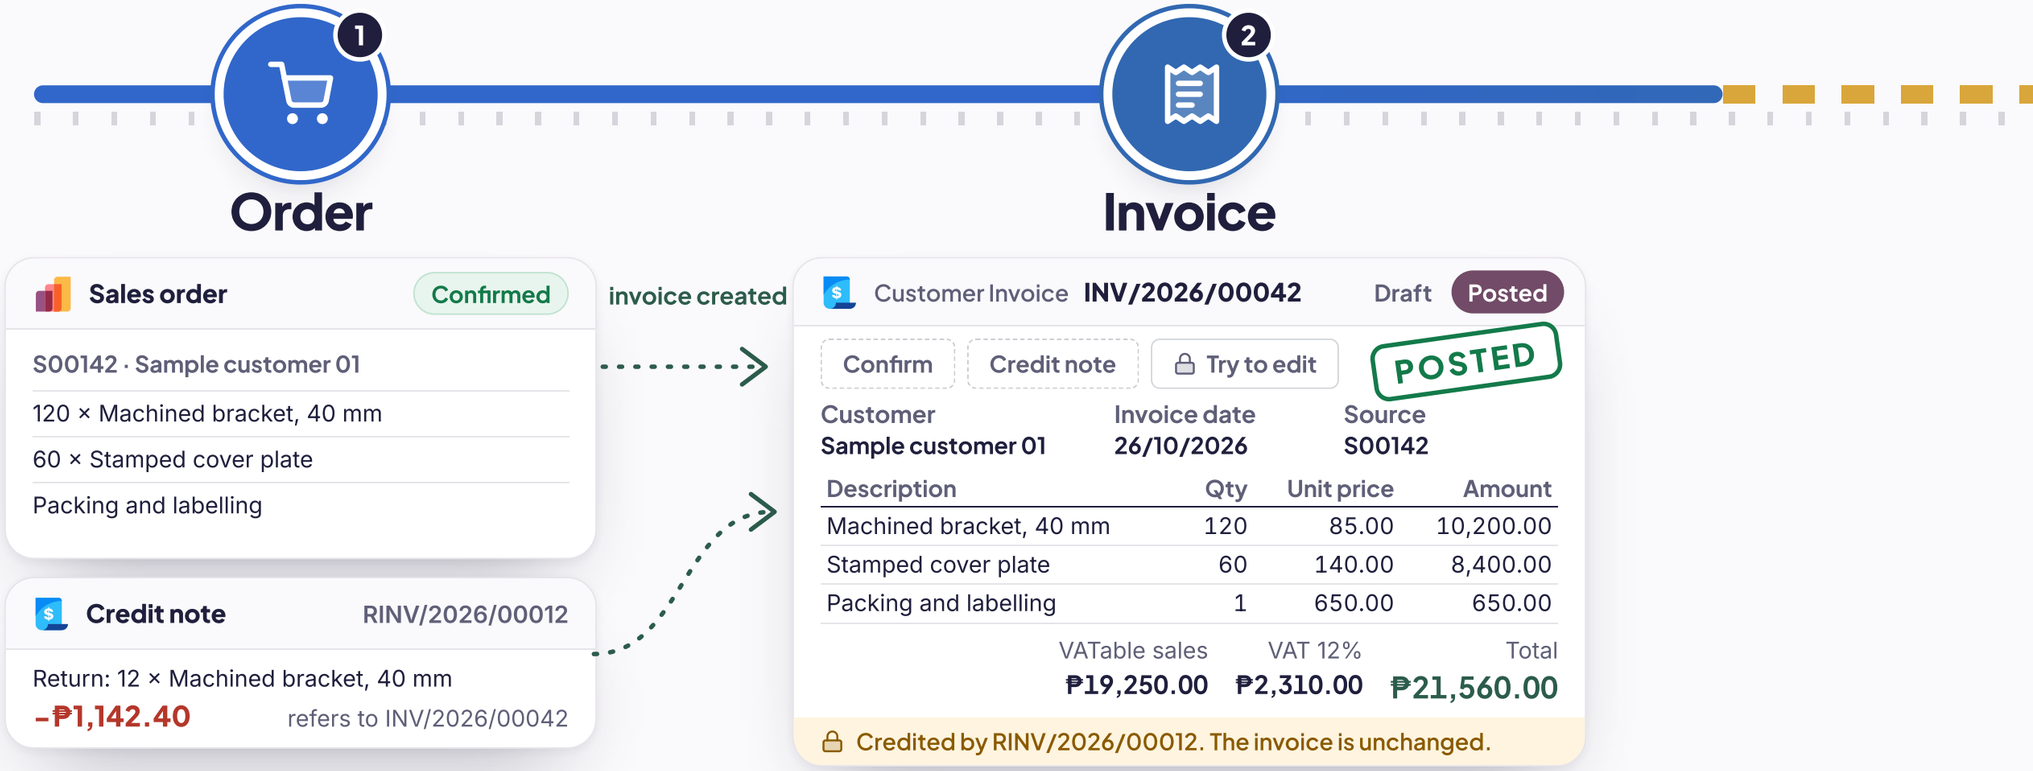

Lit stations are part of the Odoo set-up we propose

Dashed station: to assess with you, quoted separately

From the sale to the audit trail: six stations, one Odoo.

one invoice

One invoice, issued once. Corrected, never edited.

1 Draft | 2 Confirm | 3 Credit note | Try to edit

A return arrives. The issued invoice stays untouched: a credit note lowers it and refers back.

eis and books

The EIS we assess. The books we set up.

3 EIS

4 Books

BIR EIS connection — to assess

Not built into Odoo, and not built by TechNext.

- What your business must send to the EIS
- The options to connect, assessed with you
- A separate quote, once we know the option

No software is BIR-accredited.

5 of 5 moved

- Chart of accounts
  Mapped account by account to your Odoo chart of accounts.
- Customers and suppliers
  Exported from QuickBooks, imported as Odoo contacts.
- Open invoices and bills
  Brought in so they can still be paid and reconciled.
- Opening balances
  Imported as at the cut-over date, then reconciled.
- Item list
  Imported as Odoo products.

✓ All five moved. Next: reconcile, then run in parallel.

later phases

Accounting first. More when you're ready.

Phase 1 · now

Accounting, with BIR compliance

Phase 1: invoices, books and BIR forms in one Odoo, as in the flow you just saw. Everything else waits until you choose it.

Lit is in the first proposal. The other apps are options, added in your order and at your pace.

✓ Options for later phases, not part of the first proposal

for our call

Eight questions we need answered.

0 answered · 0 to follow up

Copy follow-ups

1. Has your accountant or RDO said whether e-invoicing covers T&S, and from when?
2. Do you already hold a registered CAS or CBA, or a Permit to Issue?
3. How are invoices issued from QuickBooks today: its own forms, printed booklets or another tool?
4. Which BIR forms, lists and books do you prepare each month, and who prepares them?
5. Roughly how many invoices, bills and journal entries a month?
6. How many QuickBooks company files, and how many years of history do you want to bring across?
7. Who else works in QuickBooks: sales, purchasing, the factory floor?
8. Which date matters most to you besides 31 December?
