what we heard

Two words in your booking: "Generating e-invoices."

WHAT YOUR OWN SITE TELLS US

Cotton Central, Inc., a family-run company in Manresa, Quezon City

Natural care for babies and families: Newborn, Kids, Adults and the CottonCare line

Five places to buy: cottoncentral.com, Shopee, Lazada, edamama and TikTok

Registered with the BIR: your site shows your registration seal

WHAT IT MAY MEAN FOR E-INVOICING

to confirm on the call

1. Many small orders, five sources. Each sale needs an invoice, whichever window it came through.
2. Online selling is a listed group. The rules name sellers through e-commerce; your accountant confirms if that is you.
3. Returns and refunds. An issued e-invoice can't be edited, so corrections become credit notes.
4. Marketplace payouts arrive net of fees. Sales, fees and payouts must still tie up in your books.

Permit to Issue
before your first e-invoice

31 Dec 2026
compliant e-invoices from here

EIS Certification
within 6 months of the PTI

31 Dec 2026 From this date, covered taxpayers issue compliant e-invoices. Your accountant confirms whether it applies to you.

No delete, no edit
An issued e-invoice stays as it is.

Credit note to lower
A new e-invoice to raise an amount.

Sales data to the EIS
Your system sends it to the BIR's Electronic Invoicing System.

System down?
A BIR-authorised manual invoice, then an e-invoice that refers to it.

General guidance, not tax advice · rules change: confirm with your accountant or the BIR before acting

who the rules cover

Under the Large Taxpayers Service
LTS taxpayers

Large taxpayers
as defined under RA 11976 and RR 8-2024

On a CAS or CBA with invoicing software
computerised accounting or books

Micro taxpayers
exempt from mandatory e-invoicing

E-COMMERCE SELLERS

Named in the rules whatever their size. Cotton Central sells on its own site and on four marketplaces, so this is the group to check first.

Who confirms? Your accountant or Revenue District Office decides which group you are in. We don't, and we never guess it for you.

Head office and every branch are covered; branches on different systems may need their own PTI.

How orders get into Odoo

Your web shop can run on Odoo eCommerce, or send orders over. Marketplaces come in through a connector or a daily import. We test which works for each channel.

What Odoo does, what we add, what we check.

Odoo 20 | We add | We assess | All

Odoo 20, standard

the Philippine localisation

- Invoices and credit notes, set up for BIR and CAS requirements
- A Book of Accounts for CAS and CBA
- 2307 certificates on vendor bills
- SLSP, SAWT and QAP with DAT exports
- The 2550Q VAT summary

TechNext adds

set up with your team

- Invoice layouts and number series checked against the guidelines
- Credit-note and manual-invoice flows, ready before go-live
- Orders from your shop and marketplaces brought into Odoo
- Sample outputs and a process flow for your PTI application
- Training for whoever issues and corrects invoices

We assess with you

quoted separately

The EIS connection.
Odoo has no built-in connection to the BIR's EIS, and TechNext has not built one. If you are covered, we assess the options with you and quote any connection separately.

No software is "BIR-accredited".
The BIR has not accredited or endorsed any software or e-invoicing provider. The permit is issued to your business for the system you register.

who does what

Three parties, clear lines.

Cotton Central | Your accountant | TechNext | All

Cotton Central

- Applies for the Permit to Issue, under your TIN
- Registers your system and files your returns
- Signs off layouts and test invoices before go-live
- Gives access to your shop and marketplace accounts

Your accountant

- Confirms whether e-invoicing covers you, and from when
- Confirms the invoice fields and VAT treatment
- Agrees how marketplace fees and payouts are booked
- Speaks with your RDO when needed

TechNext

- Sets up Odoo for your invoicing, series and branches
- Brings your channels' orders into Odoo
- Prepares sample outputs and the process flow with you
- Trains your team and stays through the first month

COVERAGE

1. Has your accountant or RDO said whether e-invoicing covers you, and from when?
2. Are you VAT-registered, and do you have branches or warehouses that invoice?
3. Have you applied for a Permit to Issue, or registered a CAS or CBA before?

CHANNELS

7. What runs cottoncentral.com's shop today, and who looks after it?
8. For Shopee, Lazada, edamama and TikTok: who invoices the buyer, you or the platform?
9. How are returns and refunds handled, and how often?

INVOICING TODAY

4. How do you issue invoices now: a system, a spreadsheet, or printed booklets?
5. Roughly how many orders a month, and how many from each channel?
6. Do you also sell to stores or resellers, with their own invoices and terms?

ODOO AND TIMING

10. Do you use Odoo or any accounting software today?
11. Who will issue and correct invoices, and who signs off?
12. Any date you are working towards besides 31 December?
