case study · health & wellness

Paid today, earned later.

Four studios and a day spa sell packs and memberships up front, then deliver them class by class. What they still owed members was on no report. The knot, and how Odoo 20 untied it.

why it is hard

Four leaks, one root.

LEAKS WE CAN COUNT S$8,554 a month, sample

1 A credit has no single price — S$412,640 unseen

Intro 3	10-pack	20-pack	Comp credit	7,420 credits
S$15	S$32	S$28	S$0	= S$?

The app counts credits; the books count dollars. Nothing converts one into the other.

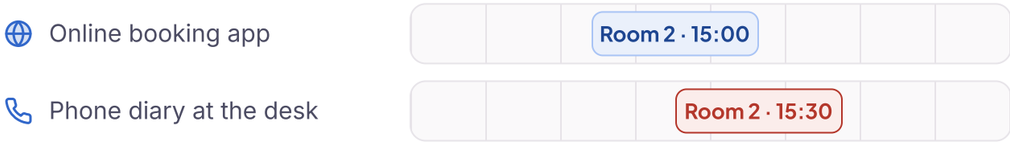

2 Renewals fail quietly — S$5,954

1,100	charged on the 1st
1,034	paid
66	declined, still booking for 30 days
26	never pay · 26 × S$229

3 Instructors paid from paper — S$1,610

Paper sign-in sheets	1,263 classes
Classes in the booking app	1,240 classes
Paid twice or at the wrong rate	23 × S$70

4 Spa rooms sold twice — S$990

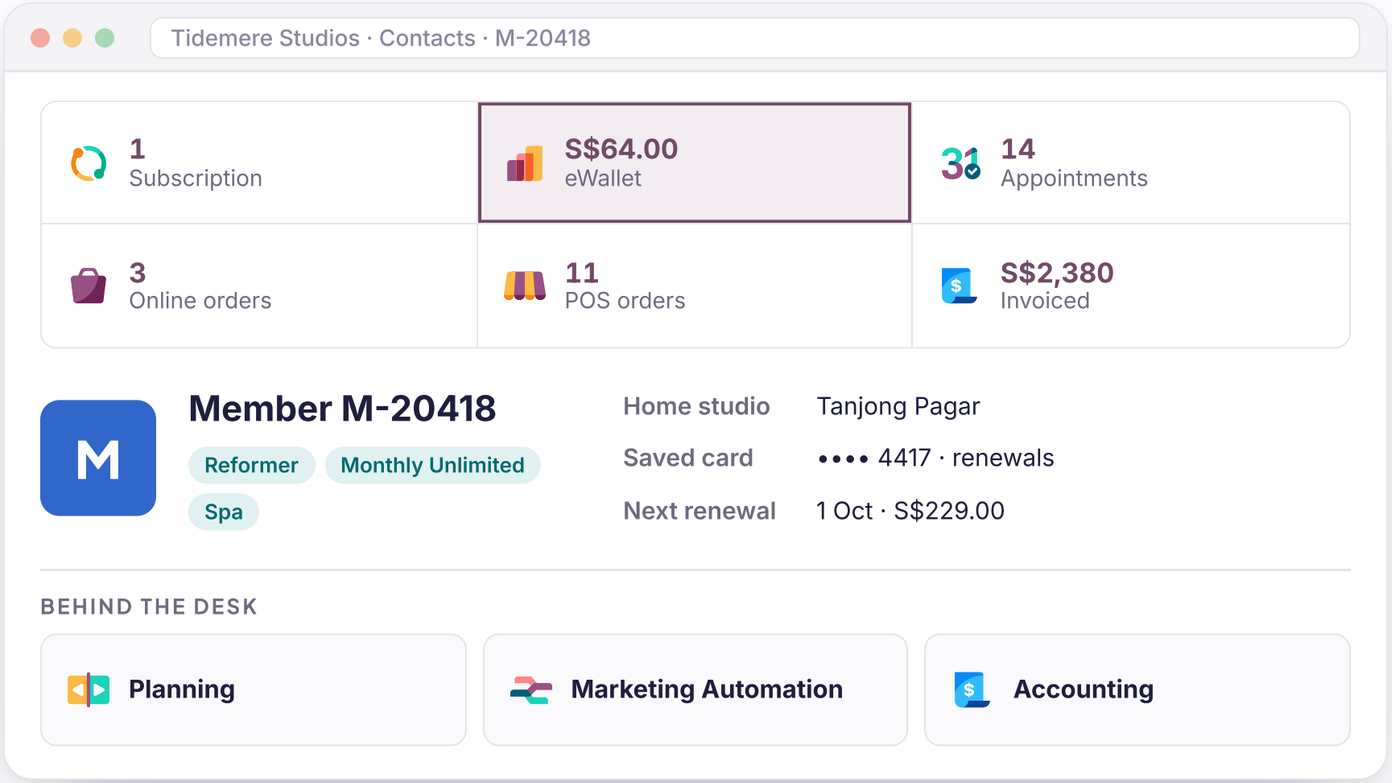

6 clashes a month · a free treatment each, S$165

The root: money, bookings, staff and rooms each live in a different system, so no one record knows what a member paid, used and is still owed.

the odoo answer

One member, one record.

DISCOUNT & LOYALTY

Her 10-pack, as an eWallet balance

The pack is an eWallet top-up: S$320 in, S$32 out at each check-in, with an expiration date. Odoo has no “class credit” object: credits are dollars.
