part 01 · the site

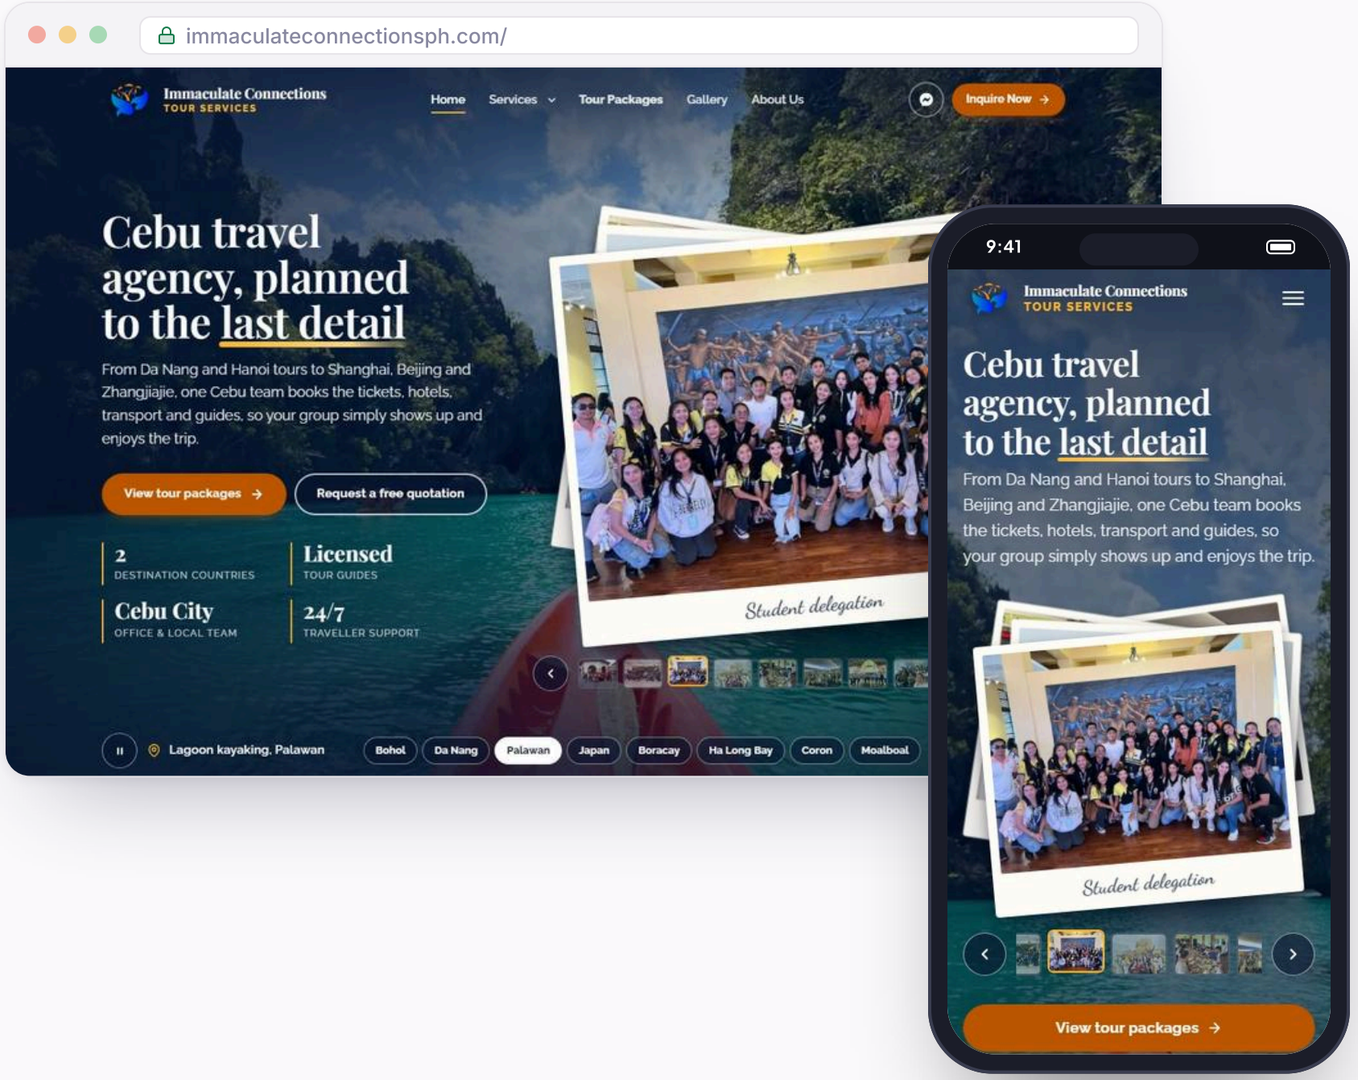

Made for a phone, great on a laptop.

Most travellers arrive from a Facebook post or a Messenger link, on a phone. Every page is built for that first.

- Home
- Tour packages
- A package
- Vehicle hire
- Events & MICE
- Gallery
- Inquire

- Your own group photos as a pile of prints
- A destination photo behind them, with the place name
- Services, featured packages and quick answers below

Open the live site

the home page

Your own trips, front and centre.

The first thing a visitor sees is your groups: real photos from your tours, as a pile of prints they can flip through.

- 15 group photos from your own trips: students, delegations, company outings
- Behind them, a destination and its name: Da Nang, Palawan, Ha Long Bay
- Tap, drag or swipe a print to throw it to the back

Da Nang Charter Flight 6D4N Tour with Ba Na Hills Overnight Stay

The page opens on your own itinerary poster, the one travellers already know from Facebook, with the price and the quote button beside it.

From ₱29,888 per pax

Request a quote

Shared on Facebook or Messenger, the link shows the package's own photo and title. On Google, it's a listing of its own.

the service pages

The document fills in as they type.

Each service page opens on its own paper: a trip ticket, a stay voucher, a boarding pass, an event badge.

the "ask us" button

Answers at 2 a.m., from your own site.

"Ask us" answers the common questions from the website's own packages, prices, dates and contact details, then hands over to the inquiry, Messenger or a call.

- How much is the Hanoi Sapa tour?
- Can you rent a van with driver?
- Do you handle seminars?
- How do I book?
- Where is your office?

No AI service, no outside calls: it only says what the site already says.

how to use it

Every page is a link to send.

Post it, message it, put it on a flyer. Each link opens on the right page, with a quote one tap away.

Send a package

`…/package-danang-6d4n-bana-overnight`

Send a filtered list

The Tours page keeps its filters in the link: 4 to 5 days, a month, airfare included.

`…/tours.html?len=4-5`

Send straight to a quote

Opens the inquiry with the package already chosen.

`…/contact.html?package=…`

Partners: your own link
